Introducing the Inaugural Cohort of YPS Doctoral Fellows

Twelve students from across the university were selected from an exceptionally competitive pool of applicants. The fellowship supports students advancing the YPS mission to catalyze all that Yale is, and all that Yale does in pursuit of planetary solutions. Over the course of the two-year fellowship, the cohort will build community, learn together, and make positive impacts across a wide range of challenges. Read more.

Share Your Vision for 2050

YPS is beginning a timely and critical effort to create a strategic vision to guide our work. Together, we hope to build a shared and inspirational conceptualization of a future we can work toward within our own institution and around the world. Imagining and describing what kind of future we all want to live in is the first step toward achieving it. Please contribute your ideas to help us build this strategic vision! Learn more.

3rd Annual Climate Capital Summit @ Climate Week NYC

September 24, join YPS and leaders across energy, investing, policy, innovation, and higher education for candid conversations on what's working and what's next at this year's Climate Capital Summit. This invite-only, free-of-charge gathering brings together cross-sector voices, high-quality content, and engaged participants. Now in its third year, it's back and bigger than ever, expanding to welcome more attendees. Learn more or request an invitation.

U.S. Academic Alliance for the IPCC: Call for Expert Nominations

Two IPCC workshops will be held in the first quarter of 2026: one on engaging diverse knowledge systems and a second on methods of assessment. Experts who are interested in participating, including knowledge holders, practitioners, and scientists, are invited to express interest through a new nomination form. The deadline to submit nominations is July 11, 2025. Learn more.

Nobel Declaration Calls for Urgent Implementation of Green and Sustainable Chemistry

At a recent Nobel symposium, Yale's Paul Anastas and an international array of scientific leaders called for structural shifts across science, policy, and education to advance sustainability goals that promote economic development while safeguarding health and the environment. The declaration states that "sustainability without innovation is impossible and innovation without sustainability would be ruinous." Read more.

Campus Symposium Explores Yale's Role in Shaping an AI Future

A recent campus symposium explored the many ways that Yale scholars are helping to shape the future of AI — and the university's key role in guiding society through the rapid technological change. The use of AI in climate solutions was a key theme in sessions throughout the day. Read more.
